

I am against any change to the rules that will allow the media outlets to be consolidated under fewer owners. These rules were put in place to provide diversity and to prevent the media from becoming a propaganda machine for the owners. The media is consolidated way too far already. Instead of relaxing the regulations, tighten them and break up these huge media conglomerates.